

Judge Kavanaugh - Revisiting the Senate Hearings

Let's revisit those painful days of the Kavanaugh Senate Hearings, shall we?

During a four-day hearing, from 5th through 7th September, 2018, Judge Kavanaugh was insulted and abused by a Senate committee during his confirmation hearings.

Several days later, it was revealed that Christine Blasey Ford had written a letter to Senator Dianne Feinstein in July accusing Kavanaugh of sexual assault while they were both in high school in 1982. The Committee postponed its vote and invited both Kavanaugh and Blasey Ford to appear at public hearing.

Both Kavanaugh and Blasey Ford testified before the Committee on September 27; the following day the nomination was forwarded to the full Senate on an 11 to 10 vote. Then, on October 6, 2018, following a supplemental FBI investigation into the allegations, the Senate voted 50–48 to confirm Kavanaugh's nomination to the Supreme Court.

In hindsight, the question posed is -

"How Complex was the Judge Kavanaugh scam, conducted by Senator Feinstein, Dr. Ford, and their shadowy handlers?"

Means, Motive, and Opportunity - - There are two possible scenarios of how the scam evolved - -

Scenario #1 - - General Liberal Silliness - - In this scenario, Dr. Ford was already anti-Trump, and I'm sure that she realized the impact of the #MeToo movement, (for which there is no defense) and perhaps on her own, she simply performed a little "creative writing", and wrote a letter, which ended up in the hands of Feinstein. In this scenario, Dr. Ford probably did not realize how badly the Democrats would use her, and she probably did not realize that "normal people" would seek real verifiable evidence and corroboration from believable witnesses.

When the simplicity of Dr. Ford's initial letter suddenly became a complex circus, we suspect that Dr. Ford had a sure enough "Oh Shit" moment, and various Democrats, (including Feinstein's office) stepped in, and quickly provided two handlers, Michael Bromwich and Debra Katz. The handlers created every lie, including data from a non-existent polygraph test, and references to a psychotherapist, etc., etc., and the rest is history.

Scenario #2 - - A Deeper and Pervasive Conspiracy - - In this alternate scenario, a well-funded cabal of Democrat conspirators likely developed their "war plans" strategy beginning on 17-November-2017, when a list of prospective Supreme Court nominees was released to the public by the White House.

Firstly, the Democrat conspirators likely had access to big money, they had clear objectives, and the possible methods were not too difficult. Someone, like the FBI, should have taken a real hard look at the money trail from the usual suspects, including George Soros, and the Clinton Foundation. Their objectives were obvious: To resist any confirmation of a Trump nominee to SCOTUS. So far, in the "Option #2", it's all politics as usual. But what of their methods? This is actually easy to imagine, and it goes like this - -

(a.) The well-funded Democrat conspirators would have employed professional investigators, tasked with researching every possible nominee on the Trump's nominee list of 17-November-2017. Using that background data, and using Kavanaugh as the example, the investigators would have tried to identify just about every person in Kavanaugh's life, who may have known him in any way, in school, college, and during his professional career.

This stage of the scam involved gathering publicly available data, and was probably not illegal. The objective would be to recruit any friendly ally, who may have known Bret Kavanaugh in any capacity. Dr. Ford's name could have come up in this search, simply as someone who attended Georgetown Prep during some of the same years that Bret Kavanaugh attended.

(b.) Next, the researchers would have taken all of the names found above, and cross-referenced them with police records and medical records. This is where the data search became illegal. Using insiders in the FBI, or in state police agencies, the researchers would have looked for anything on the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) database. Juicy prospects like Dr. Ford probably had nothing there, and neither did any of Judge Kavanaugh's actual friends, but that did not deter the conspirators. Next, in another equally illegal move, the conspirators would have cross-referenced medical records.

According to this news article - -

<https://www.washingtontimes.com/news/2015/feb/11/electronic-medical-records-government-medicine-101/>

- - there are approximately 35 Federal Agencies that have access to your Medicare, Medicaid, and Obamacare patient records. ("Bingo").

(c.) In the illegal medical database search, Dr. Ford's name would have popped up as someone who received psychiatric care. With this information in hand, a Democrat "recruiter" would have been tasked with recruiting Dr. Ford, coaching her, training her, creating "evidence", and then finally writing the letter, and the rest is history.

If this scenario is in any way true, then you can expect the Democrats to already have everything in place for future challenges to any proposed nominee ever submitted by a Republican President.
